Contact: info@applus.com

CE Marking

For any product to be traded within the European Union, it must meet the EU's stringent product-safety legislation. CE-marking is a certification of conformity that is required for a wide variety of products and indicates that a product complies with said EU legislation. Achieving CE certificate of conformity, however, can be a complex process.

THE Applus+ SOLUTION

As an official notified body for nearly all EU product-safety directives, Applus+ can provide its clients with the specialist knowledge, experience and expertise they need to achieve compliance.

We offer a wide range of conformity and assessment services related to these EU product-safety directives:

- CE-marking consultancy
- CE-marking certification process
- Conformity assessments and audits
- Design verification
- Risk analysis and assessments
- Production supervision

We hold a whole host of accreditations, including the following:

- Evaluation and certification to Directive 2014/68/EU

Target customers

This service is aimed at any business which wants to sell its products inside the EU.

Key customer benefits

Because Applus+ offers a wide-ranging expertise in CE certification requirements, we can assist clients though the CE marking procedure to achieve a rapid and stress-free compliance process, covering the relevant directives to enable our clients to begin training inside EU jurisdiction without unnecessary delay.